

Short Pitch:

My website is a brief portfolio of the art that I've produced.

Long Pitch:

My website, which is my personal online portfolio, provides insight on the type of art that I normally make, but overall the best works that I have created. I tend to focus more on digital artwork made with Krita, but I am also experienced in Procreate, traditional drawing and painting, and traditional/digital 3D artworks. My career goal is to be an animation artist for a movie or television company, so this site is meant for possible employers. I also do commission work on the side, so this will give insight as to what my prices are, the duration of completion, and the types of commissions I produce.

Personas:*Disney Recruiter

One of the employers at Walt Disney Studios who is looking to hire a new employee for character design.

New Commission Client

A person who has never seen my art before and wants to order a commission.

Old Commission Client

Someone who has ordered multiple commissions and is therefore familiar with my work.

Comparative or Competitive Websites: